THE BOYS HAVE FUN.

FRANKS PLAYED WITH AN INNO-CENT-LOOKING ELECTRIC WIRE.

OTHER ITEMS FROM MANCHESTER

Remains of Mr. Randlett Brought Here for Interment—Daniel to Speak at a Powhatan Barbecue—Personals and Briefs.

The minds of some young hopefuls feeding near Ferry street and Cowardin avenue were idle Friday evening, and that unmentionable somebody who makes a workshop of idle minds got in a good evening's work on this occasion. In these young minds was an scheme out of which they had a good deal of fun at the expense of others. At the intersection of these thoroughfares the Perry-street car line turns down the avenue. At the turn grows a large tree, whose branches overspread the line wire. This was observed by the youngsters, and served their purpose well. They inaugurated a little game, which wiser people would not have thought of. A wire was secured, one boy climbed the tree, and hooked it over the trolley-wire, allowing the other end to hang about five feet above the ground. The lower end was, as the upper turned downward, hooked upwards, the whole resembling an old-fashioned pot-hook. Then another wire, with a similar hook in one end, was contributed by one of the boys. This wire was attached to the trolley-wire and was swinging loose, dangling and swaying in the breeze, and the game was a boy to take the shorter wire, and catch it in the hook of the other. Several newcomers touched it lightly, and received slight shocks, each one declining positively to try the game again. Presently a little negro came along, and a "bet" was made that he could do it. One of the angels in disguise put him on his mettle, and, with a determined look, and an eager hand, he grasped the short wire. It was the matter of a second, he caught the wire, and the motor man was lying flat on his back, yelling "Fire! murder, and blazes!" A car came up while the boys were almost rolling on the ground in merriment and laughter. The car-men ran then off, and the motor man went up the tree and took the wire down. The negro boy soon recovered from the shock and fright, and left a wiser, if not quite such a heroic youth, in his own conceit. He was very fortunate to come off unscathed, as foot-balls; however, not altogether.

BARBECUE IN POWHATAN.

The political world, as found in old Powhatan, will be stirred from the centre out Friday. The Democrats will give a barbecue at the courthouse, and Senator John W. Daniel will speak, as well as other well-known campaigners. The day will witness one of the greatest gatherings ever seen at that place of popular resort. People will come from Powhatan, from Gloucester, from Chesterfield, and from Manchester. An announcement that Major Daniel will speak nearly always attracts attention among the Southside people, and they lay aside other things to wait on his patriotic and eloquent words.

HUSTINGS COURT.

The Manchester Hustings Court will be engaged this week in civil cases, none of a criminal nature engaging the attention of the tribunal this term. The most important is docketed for Wednesday, and is the suit for damages of Abraham Dean's Administrator against the Southern Railroad Company.

Dean was a colored hand employed at the shops of this company in this city. It is alleged that he was hurt by the front of a locomotive falling on him and injuring him. He lingered for some time, and died from the effects of his injuries, so allege the administrators. The suit is for $10,000.

The plaintiff is represented by Messrs. Charles L. Page and Bill Montague. The defendant company will be represented by Mr. B. H. Munford.

was a Mason of many years, being a member of Elkridge Lodge, No. 161, of Elkridge Landing, Md. He was also a member of Harmony Lodge, No. 4, Independent Order of Odd-Fellows, of Baltimore.

At the request of these lodges, Manchester Lodge, No. 14, Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons, will meet in the Masonic Temple at 2 o'clock, and Stewart Lodge, No. 14, Independent Order of Odd-Fellows, will meet at Odd-Fellows' Hall at 1:30 o'clock. They will proceed to the late residence and act as an escort to the remains of their late brother. The following brother Masons will be among the pallbearers: Messrs. E. W. Fitzgerald, Augustine Royall, E. W. Weisiger, and Captain John O'Brien.

THE SEASON OPENS.

The German Friday night was an auspicious opening of the season for the Manchester Cotillon Club. The graceful dancers stepped down "right antic" until the wee small hours, taking just short while for repast. Among those present were Misses Kate Cox, Maude Patterson, Carrie Lay, Fannie Allen, Louise White, Minnie Weisiger, Elsie Weisiger, Gertrude Weisiger, Gay Goolsby, Lula Mayo, Mary Terrell, Florence Holland, Sadie Chalkley, Minnie Lee Dewrey, Kate Dewrey, Pattie Lacy, Nena Owens, Messrs. W. C. Pulliam, Jay Fendley, Thomas Turpin, D. L. Jordan, E. E. Hardy, T. M. Fendley, Loren Fendley, Sam Patterson, Hamilton Chalkley, John Britton, Will Patterson, Mosby Pulliam, Frank Sampson, Royall Webster, Harry Botte, William Ball, Sam Moore. The chaperons were Mrs. Cox, Mrs. M. E. Hardy, Mrs. E. M. Fendley, Mrs. J. H. Patterson, Mrs. George E. Gary, and Mrs. Lawrence Ingram.

ORDINANCE OF BAPTISM.

Rev. Dr. R. L. Thornhill, pastor of Bainbridge-St. Baptist church, will administer the ordinance of baptism to eleven candidates this afternoon in the creek at Murky's Mill, near Branch church. Rev. Fred A. Lamb, pastor of Branch church, has just concluded a very interesting meeting at that church, during which time fourteen persons professed conversion. Mr. Lamb has only been pastor at Branch's for a few months, and during that time the congregations have largely increased, and much interest in the work is being manifested.

Funeral of Mr. Randlett.

The remains of Mr. Walter C. Randlett, whose death occurred Friday at Spencer, N. C., were brought last evening to this city, which had been his home from his birth. This afternoon at 2 o'clock the funeral will take place from Fifth-street Methodist church, and the remains will be interred in Oakwood cemetery, Richmond. Rev. J. O. Babcock, pastor of the church, will conduct the service, assisted by Rev. W. W. Lear, of Central Methodist church.

PERSONALS AND BRIEFS.

The Episcopal church of West-End church will hold services at the almshouse this afternoon at 3 o'clock.
Mr. J. A. Tatum is quite sick at his home, on East Ninth street.
Mr. W. D. Ford, of No. 214 west Twelfth street, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Our Removal Sale!

We are determined not to move a pair of Shoes more than is absolutely necessary. To accomplish this result we realize that we will have to offer extra inducements to purchasers for next nine days. Will price-cutting thin out our shelves? We'll try it, so here goes:

$23,000 WORTH OF STYLISH SEASONABLE SHOES AT CUT PRICES.

We offer our entire stock, nothing reserved, at

FIFTEEN (15) PER CENT. DISCOUNT up to date of moving, November 2d. Our fall and winter goods are here, in all the newest and most desirable shapes and materials. An opportunity to supply yourself or family with fresh, seasonable Shoes in the very beginning of the season at a great saving. A hint to the wise is sufficient. We will be in our new store, 313 East Broad Street, on or about November 3d.

C. F. CROSS SHOE COMPANY, 415 East Broad Street.

To Have Another Sale.
A special meeting of the stockholders of the Richmond Permanent Building, Loan and Trust Company was held Friday afternoon, and another sale of real estate belonging to the company was authorized. At this sale only stockholders will be eligible to bid, and the purchase price will be paid in stock of the company.
